The name of this episode derives from the 1887 Harper's Weekly version of the old children's rhyme, Monday's Child, which includes the line "Friday's child is full of woe." "Capellans" was also the name given to the aliens in Jerry Sohl 's 1953 novel The Transcendent Man , though the connection seems unintentional: the aliens in that book were closer in style to the Organians .

Friday's Child had lots of cute elements and overall was a fun Heyer-style romp through the London season. Hero was an adorable heroine- sweet tempered and loyal, nearly to a fault. I usually prefer a bit more outgoing heroine, but for this story 'Kitten' was perfect. Lord Sheringhams friends were hilariously entertaining!

Brian Mountford has chosen thirty five poems which explore the human experience of suffering and redemption, accompanied by his own thoughtful and witty commentary. The collection contains secular and sacred pieces in equal measure and came into being as part of a programme to bring a sense of seriousness, in a non prescriptive, open-ended way to the Easter holiday crowds in the University Church, Oxford, where the poems were read on Good Friday with dignity and panache by senior school children. The selection has not been augmented in any kind of attempt to provide a fully representative anthology, but kept exactly as it evolved in response to this specific need.

How much love exists between a Father and his daughter? More than can ever be imagined the sad part is often we don't realize the depth of that love until their gone. Friday's Child is a tribute to my father Glenn Goodson. Who was born on a Friday and died on a Friday. He was a lot of things: A christian, A son, a brother, a husband, a grandfather, a father-in-law, a brother-in-law, a friend, a war hero, a fireman. But most of all, he was my Daddy! I miss him and love him with all my heart.
