Since this resource first appeared in 1997.

For those friends and acquaintances, who have expressed a wish to read the complete story of my life, from my childhood to the present time, I have undertaken the writing of this book. By including even some incidents that, in themselves, may seem trivial, I have tried to make this account a full and accurate autobiography. In modesty, however, I have also desired to render my story as simple as possible, in fact, to give a vivid picture of that we are and all that we do, both inside and outside the church, with no division into the 'sacred' and the 'secular'.

A hymnal featuring the greatest hymns of church history and today.

Jay Hulme is an award-winning transgender poet, performer, educator and speaker. In late 2019, his fascination with old church buildings turned into a life-changing encounter with the God he had never believed in, and he was baptised in the Anglican church. In this new poetry collection, Jay details his journey through faith and baptism during an unprecedented world-wide pandemic. As he finds God in the ruined factories and polluted canals of his home city, Jonah is heckled over etymology, angels appear in tube stations, and Jesus sits atop a multi-story car park. Cathedrals are trans, trans people are cathedrals, and amidst it all God reaches out to meet us exactly where we are. Jay's poetry explores belief in the modern world and offers a perspective on queer faith that will appeal not only to Christians, but young members of the LGBT+ community who are interested in faith but unsure of where to Always praise Him and give thanks here and now and in Heaven within eternity. God inspires me to write every day, I try to write whenever I can, He has put on my heart that I should do whatever I can to write and praise Him in my writings, these writings are no my own but God's, He has done all the inspiring and given me the strength and life to write what I have, he gives my fingers the strength to go on and write more and express my soul and heart, he is life. Let us continue to be inspired by Him every day and be encouraged through His word of life, the Bible, let us continue to read and express
